

Average RF feature relevance for every feature set obtained by each linear regression feature selection method and the experts selection set. The black bars correspond to the standard deviation of the importance for every method and every feature.